Dear Newton,

Thank you for your letter of April 4th which came yesterday.

If you or your referee is happy that my "modus Ponens free (Implicational) logic" is original and interesting I will be quite pleased if you publish it in the Proceedings of last years conference. While at a conference (on Proof theory) in Oxford last week I had some more ideas on the topic - these have now been incorporated in the paper from which the earlier typing mistakes have also been removed. I am sending you a copy of this as well as of another paper under separate cover.

I am applying again for the promotion to Reader that I did not get two years back, so I hope you don't mind sending another letter on my behalf.

Regards

Martin
