Assunto: Yes, it is OK

Dear Newton:

Yes, the sentence "I am the spirit of contradiction" (German: "Ich bin der Geist des Widerspruchs") is grammatically correct. In this case there is only a slight possibility that the semantic role of the word "spirit" might be misunderstood as meaning something like "the essence of". But as a whole, it is OK.

Best wishes.
Kazem

Dear Kazem,
I would like to say in good German the following: I am the spirit of contradiction. This is a different asseretion of Faust's. Maybe, I could say "Ich bin der Geist der Widerspruch". Is this correct?
